BRAND GUIDE · STRATEGY · VOICE · VISUAL IDENTITY

"Know enough to be dangerous."

VERSION 1.1 · 2026-03-29 · LOCKED

COMPILED BY WATSON  · INTERNAL USE ONLY

STRATEGY LAYER

Positioning, archetype, values, and the core brand frame. This is the foundation everything else builds on.

THE ONE-LINE BRAND

Jeremy knows enough to be dangerous.

Curious, exploratory, always useful in whatever room he ends up in. Not claiming to be the expert — claiming to be the person who's always figuring it out, always a step ahead of what's needed.

POSITIONING STATEMENT

FOR	Anyone who wants to understand what's actually happening at the intersection of AI, community, and creative work
JEREMY IS	The operator/educator who's been in the room, built the systems, and can make it legible
UNLIKE	Industry commentators who observe from the outside — Jeremy is actively running it

The differentiator nobody else owns: Theater/education background + crypto/NFT operations fluency + AI-native operator (Watson) + Gary V proximity. Almost no one can claim all four simultaneously.

BRAND ARCHETYPE

PRIMARY

THE SAGE

Pursues knowledge, shares what they learn, earns trust through expertise without arrogance. Direct, thoughtful, credible.

Jeremy's educator background, his "I know enough to be dangerous" framing, his role as knowledge distiller inside a complex organization.

SECONDARY

THE CREATOR

Brings new things into the world, values originality, shows the work. Curious, generative, in-motion.

Watson, Mission Control, Content Condor — always building something that shouldn't exist yet.

The blend: someone who explains AND builds. Not just a thinker, not just a shipper. Both.

CORE VALUES

01. AUTHENTICITY

No hype, no corporate speak, no rage-bait, no fake polish. If it's not real, it doesn't get posted.

02. CURIOSITY

The point isn't to be the expert — it's to be the most interested person in the room.

03. LEGIBILITY

Everything Jeremy creates should lower the barrier to understanding something. Teacher instinct, always on.

04. SHOW THE WORK

Don't announce. Demonstrate. The build log is the content.

05. USEFUL IN ANY ROOM

The swiss-army knife disposition — adaptable, practical, never just one thing.

TARGET AUDIENCE

PRIMARY

The curious operator — someone running something who wants to understand how AI, web3, and creative work actually function in practice.

ALSO REACHED

VeeFriends community (behind-the-scenes lens), developers and AI builders (practical workflows).

RULE

One voice, no segmenting. The Sage+Creator disposition works across all three audiences without changing register.

ORIGIN STORY: THE TRANSLATOR

Teacher → VeeFriends → AI isn't a pivot story. It's the same skill applied in bigger rooms:

- As a teacher: made hard concepts accessible to students
- At VeeFriends: made a complex, fast-moving NFT/IP ecosystem understandable to a community
- With AI: makes emerging technology usable — not by simplifying it, but by building systems that work and showing how

BRAND VOICE

ENERGETIC

Field notes, not announcements

BEHIND-THE-SCENES

In the room, not commenting

ACCESSIBLE

Warm, direct, personal

VOICE CHECK (RUN BEFORE EVERY POST)

- Does this sound like a real person, or Jeremy-shaped copy?
- Does it name a mechanism, detail, or lived moment — not just a generalization?
- Is it warm, direct, and practical — not corporate, abstract, or performative?
- Does it have the energy of the selected mode (builder / educator / community / personal)?

NEVER SAY · NEVER SOUND LIKE

- ✗ "Crushing it" / hustle-porn energy
- ✗ Fake humility ("just a guy trying to figure it out 🙏")
- ✗ Buzzword soup ("leveraging synergistic AI-driven paradigms")
- ✗ Performative vulnerability without substance
- ✗ Clout-chasing (name-dropping without earned context)
- ✗ Abstract AI futurism disconnected from real work

CONTENT PILLARS

01 EDUCATION

AI, web3, whatever's worth knowing right now. Make the complex legible. Teach from experience, not theory.

02 INTERVIEWS

Conversations with people doing impactful things. Jeremy's community operator background makes this authentic.

03 VEEFRIENDS

Behind the scenes: the community, the work, what it actually looks like. The insider view, shared accessibly.

04 THE CRAFT

How to post, build a brand, show up consistently. What Jeremy is learning about building an audience in public.

Format: Short, frequent posts + one longer piece per month. Sustainable cadence. Short posts compound; long pieces build authority.

CONTENT MODE TRIGGERS

Pick one mode per piece. The visual system follows.

BUILDER	EDUCATOR	COMMUNITY	PERSONAL
Writing about building something	Explaining or teaching	VeeFriends, people, events	Reflective, human moments

VEEFRIENDS RELATIONSHIP

Weave it in. VeeFriends comes up naturally as context, not the headline. It's the proof point, not the brand. @jeremyknows should stand independent.

Bio treatment: One line of context.
"Community Success Analyst at VeeFriends"
— mentioned, not led with.

BIO + APPLICATION COPY

SURFACE	COPY
X Bio	Community Success Analyst at @VeeFriends. Know enough to be dangerous. Building in public with Watson 🐼.
GitHub	I know enough to be dangerous.
Website header	Know enough to be dangerous.

VISUAL IDENTITY

03

The emblem, palette, type stack, illustration system, and how it all fits together. This is the brand made visible.

THE EMBLEM

On dark bg

On light bg

Primary mark: The hat-with-heart. This emerged organically across every era of Jeremy's creative work — it wasn't assigned. That makes it real.

- Hat = theatrical identity, the performer who commands any room
- Heart = the "why" — not just clever, but kind
- Together = theater + empathy. Education + performance.

Dark background rule: Always use the white-hat version on dark backgrounds. The near-black hat disappears on #0D0D0D — this is the #1 implementation error to avoid.

MARK VARIANTS

VARIANT	WHEN TO USE
Hat + heart (primary)	All main usage — profile icon, favicon, badge, watermark
Hat + wordmark "Jeremy Knows"	Headers, banners, content cards
Heart alone (accent)	CTAs, reactions, emotional emphasis — the branded ❤️
Hat alone	Where color budget is exhausted — no room for red

COLOR PALETTE

Proportional palette — black + white dominate, red is the accent, secondaries support

ROLE	NAME	HEX	RULES
Text / outline	Near-black	 #0D0D0D	Warm near-black, not pure. Every composition starts here.
Base	Off-white	 #F5F5F0	Warm, not cold. Light background default. LOCKED
Emotional anchor	Red	 #E8233A	The heart. One use per composition — never everywhere. LOCKED
Dark headers	Forest green	 #1E5C3A	Primary dark bg — headers, GitHub banner. LOCKED
Secondary accent	Green	 #2DB46A	Warm secondary. First accent priority.
Idea / energy	Yellow	 #F5C518	Lightbulb yellow. Educational content only.
VF link	Deep green	 #11BF63	VF brand green. Only when post is explicitly about VeeFriends.

PALETTE RULES

- Black + white is the base. Start there.
- Red is the accent. Once per composition.
- Secondary accents support — never lead. Pick one per piece.
- Never more than 3 colors in one composition.
- No gradients in brand marks. Only in illustrations.
- Red on black? Fine. Red on white? Fine. Red on red? Never.

TYPE STACK

BEBAS NEUE

DISPLAY · HERO TEXT · SECTION HEADERS — GOOGLE FONTS, FREE

DM Sans — Body + Secondary

BODY TEXT · CALLOUTS · UI LABELS — GOOGLE FONTS, FREE

Caveat — sketch captions & marginal notes

ACCENT · BEHIND-THE-SCENES · 1 USE PER COMPOSITION — GOOGLE FONTS, FREE

⚠ Do NOT use: Obviously or Trade Gothic Next — those are VeeFriends-licensed fonts, not Jeremy's type stack. Using them blurs the brand boundary.

ILLUSTRATION SYSTEM

TIER 1 · MASCOT

Polished character art. Full-color, expressive, rounded proportions, bold outlines, VeeFriends-adjacent cartoon style.

Use for: logos, banners, merchandise, pinned content.

Max intentionality — clean outlines, 3 colors max.

TIER 2 · EMBLEM

Flat vector badge. The hat-with-heart icon. No gradients in the mark. Heavy outline.

Use for: profile icons, favicons, watermarks, content card stamps.

Always on black or white — never on a busy background.

TIER 3 · SKETCH

Rough, intentional. Pencil or ink feel. Not lo-fi — expressively designed to feel in-motion.

Use for: behind-the-scenes, idea callouts, educational headers.

Use sparingly so it stays special.

WHAT TO AVOID

- ✗ Photographs of stock people or generic tech imagery
- ✗ Overly polished 3D renders — too far from hand-made warmth
- ✗ Clipart or default emoji-style icons
- ✗ Multiple illustration tiers mixed in a single post

VOICE + VISUAL ALIGNMENT

Use this table for every piece of content. Pick the mode, match the system.

MODE	BACKGROUND	ILLUSTRATION	HAT?	ACCENT	VISUAL FEEL
Builder	 #ODOD0D	Tier 3 — Sketch	Yes	 #2DB46A	Sketch caption, dark bg, white-hat mark
Educator	 #F5F5F0	Tier 2 — Emblem	Yes	 #F5C518	Clean card, display type, lightbulb icon
Community	Natural photo	Tier 2 — watermark	Small	 #2DB46A	Photo-led, hat watermark, casual
VeeFriends	 #1E5C3A	Tier 1 or 2	Yes	 #11BF63	Deep green, VF accent only for VF posts
Personal	 #F5F5F0	None	No	None	Text only — absence of hat = human moment
